

But if speaking again (from a fork in the tongue) (from a message restless as a single version of itself)
(from Talmudic need), I offer this revisionist cookie:

*Nature gave us one brain
and two eyes, so we could see twice as far as we think.*